Dear Ms. Sniadala,

In advance of the rituals by known federal criminals, including your employer, being described as a hearing on July 5th (barring the incarceration or injunction of these parties by federal authorities), I want to be sure I have all the evidence of your employer's actions toward federal witness intimidation and obstruction of justice, being referred to as legal pleadings.

Unfortunately the clerk's electronic docket is down due to unknown error so I cannot make sure I am in receipt of these documents. Would you be so kind as to affirm that what your felonious colleagues have referred to as legal pleadings have been delivered to me?

I am in receipt of:

Notice of Motion and Hearing Instantner for 137 Sanctions, QMCSO, and Motion to Modify Allocation of Parental Responsibilities

Motion for 137 Sanctions

Motion for QMCSO

Motion to Modify Allocation of Parental Responsibilities

Petition for Prospective Attorney Fees

NOF for the Petition for Prospective Attorney Fees

Is this all that is set for the show trial? I also just wanted to confirm that the NOM filed instantner on April 28 is the only notice filed? There wasn't a legal one? Also, Wehrman and Klein couldn't get Bender and Blechman to perjur themselves and write a fake report you want to include? We all know the last thing Mr. Wehrman wants is a truthful report from either but really, appearances do matter, even in a show trial.

As a female executive I also always want to look out for other professional women. Sweetie, don't forget that when the feds come knocking, good girls get talking. In fact you can call the FBI at (312) 421-6700 if there's anything you need to get off your chest.
